

DEDICATION AND PERSONAL SUPPORT

Introducing your Pfizer Patient Affairs Liaison, a professional dedicated to serving the rare disease community by connecting patients, caregivers, and patient advocacy organizations with Pfizer Rare Disease tools and resources. A Patient Affairs Liaison's work is guided by the principles of compassion, commitment, and connection.

Annie Sukhnandan

NY Metro, NJ, Eastern PA

I'm here to:

Provide compassion by understanding the needs of patients, caregivers, and patient advocacy organizations and serving as a point of contact for questions they may have

Maintain commitment by educating patients and caregivers about Pfizer Rare Disease patient support resources

Facilitate connection by providing educational programs that bring patients, caregivers, and patient advocacy organizations together to share experiences and support advocacy for their communities

“
I've been a passionate and dedicated advocate for the rare disease community for over 16 years.
”

To get in touch with Annie:

347-757-0922

annie.sukhnandan@pfizer.com

Three decorative dotted lines in white and light blue are positioned in the upper half of the slide. One line starts at the top left and curves down towards the bottom right. Another line starts further left, is more horizontal, and then curves down. A third line on the right side forms a partial circular shape.

For more information about Pfizer Patient Affairs Liaisons, please visit pfizerpal.com